ArtsFairfax Announces Creative Entrepreneur Series

A Collaboration with the
Washington Area Lawyers for the Arts

Fairfax VA - ArtsFairfax is collaborating with the Washington Area Lawyers for the Arts to present WALA's Creative Entrepreneurs Series for creatives who want to take the next step in their professional career. The series comprises six sessions to be held on consecutive Tuesdays, starting September 15, 2020, and continuing through October 20, 2020, from 11:00 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

The series explores the basics of forming a business for your creative endeavors, from deciding whether to incorporate as a non-profit or for-profit entity, understanding copyrights and trademarks, contract and negotiation skills, and finally to taxes and understanding the grants process.

Participants may choose to attend one session or experience the entire series. WALA provides the initiative in collaboration with ArtsFairfax, Alexandria Office of the Arts, Torpedo Factor Arts Center, and Arlington Arts.

ArtsFairfax is providing the series for free to all Fairfax County, City of Fairfax, and City of Falls Church creatives. Use the code WALANOVAFX or the direct links provided to register.

"Amidst the devastation of the pandemic, this is an exciting opportunity to collaborate with WALA and our neighboring arts organizations to provide critically needed educational information and tools for Fairfax creatives," said Lisa Mariam, ArtsFairfax Director of Grants and Services.

The series invites creatives to learn about the legal sides of the arts and includes presentations about copyright/trademark protection, business entities formation, contracts and licensing, negotiation strategies, tax strategies, and grants.

Attendees must register for each session. Register below or visit
